Villas Valriche Ranked Among the World's Best Golf Resorts

02 Sep 2010

Villas Valriche, a luxury golf and beach IRS resort initiated by ENL, is ranked among the World's Top 20 Golf Resorts in a special report produced for Primelocation.com, the UK's leading property portal.

The report names the best golf resorts in the world for location, judged on the quality and variation of the golf combined with the quality of the residential offering.

"This is a genuine list based on my golfing experiences," comments veteran golf journalist Peter Swain, the report's author. "I had the pleasure of playing at Golf du Château at Villas Valriche last year and was given a personal tour of the villas and the resort's facilities. The course has three totally different feels as you play your round. The first holes have a links feel, with spectacular views over the Indian Ocean. The next holes are truly Mauritian with palm trees and water hazards, and the final holes are very much like a parkland course, with magnificent Tikomo trees framing the holes. There are also five tee choices on each hole, giving the golfer the option of length and challenge that they wish to take on."

Already the recipient of international awards for Best Development and Best Golf Development, Villas Valriche is situated on the south west coast of Mauritius, just 40 minutes from the airport. The development forms part of the Domaine de Bel Ombre, a former sugar estate with a number of luxury hotels nearby.

When complete, there will be 288 Mauritian plantation-style villas set in 525 acres of lush, tropical landscaped grounds on a rolling hillside overlooking the Indian Ocean (to date over 100 villas have been sold).

The estate lies at the foot of the Valriche Nature Reserve and is set around the existing 18-hole championship Golf du Chateau course, with a separate 9-hole par 3 course. A second 18-hole championship golf course is already planned next door.

Commenting on the Top 20 list, Anton de Waal, CEO of Villas Valriche said: "It is an amazing accolade to be included among such a prestigious list of the world's finest courses. We are immensely proud, especially when you consider that Villas Valriche is still such a relatively young course."
